Notification

- You must let everyone know what is going on at all times
- Start a wiki, newsletter, emails, website, blog, anything to help keep people in the loop
- Management needs to know you are on target
- Users need to know what to do, what to expect and when it starts
- ABC - Always Be Communicating

Limiting Backups vs. Eliminating Backups

Not running a backup during business hours never should imply that backups are to be avoided

The Morning (after) Has Broken

- EVERYTHING....Just kidding, but to the users...
- Executives will pontificate, you need to validate
- You will receive numerous calls, do not get frustrated

Moral of the Story

1. Plan, Plan, Plan
2. Train your Admin staff (and maybe users?)
3. Provide up to date information and QA
4. Test, Test, Test
5. Document everything
